AFFAIRS AT THE NAVY YARD

ALL HANDS WAITING FOR THE COMING APPROPRIATIONS.

PLANS FOR REPAIRING THE DRYDOCK BEING MADE-THE INDIANA TO BE CLEANED

BY DIVERS-OFFICERS AND MEN IN DEMAND.

Almost everything in the line of routine work at the Navy Yard is waiting for the appropriations of the next fiscal year to become available, and in the mean time operations at the shops are confined to just as small an amount as is consistent with keeping things moving. In the engineering department work is being laid out for the machinery of the monitor Terror, the cruiser Detroit, and the battle-ship Indiana, general overhaulings being the order of the day. The Chicago's thrust shafts are ready to be put in place, and the difficult task of fitting the propeller blades to the hubs has been started. blades and hubs being in the lathes. Nothing has been done toward the removal of the engines from the setting-up shop, and they will remain where they are until the construction people have the foundations in readiness. The Puritan is practically ready for sea, the Maine has left the yard, and the Indiana is likely to remain there for an indefinite time, as it has been decided by the Department to have her hull cleaned by divers instead of waiting for the completion of repairs to the big drydock. It is expected that the Helena, which has left her place at the ordnance dock and been towed to the main sea wall, will be placed in the small dock as soon as the yard tug Nina is floated, which will be some time this week.

Work in clearing away the wreckage of building No. 13, the ordnance shop which was destroyed by fire, is well under way, and the estimates of the Yards and Docks Bureau of the cost of reflooring the building and putting a new roof on have been submitted. It is expected that $35,000 will leave a comfortable margin for the work. The walls were not injured in the least by the fire, and they stand as a monument of the quality of masonry work done more than thirty years ago. There is little value attached to the contents of the building which were not destroyed by fire, and no estimate of the cost of replacing the material consumed can be made until all the appraisements are made. The origin of the fire is a mystery, but as the electric switchboard was found to be in good condition and perfect order after the fire was extinguished. the first supposition, that the blaze was started by spontaneous combustion among some of the stuff left in the building by the painters who were at work on the outside, is regarded as the one most likely to be correct.

THE BIG DRYDOCK. Under the appropriation of $100,000 for the repairs to the drydock, plans are being drawn for the construction of a coffer dam which will reach across the space between the walls of the approach. When this dam is built the water between it and the gate of the dock will be pumped out, and the damaged apron put in good shape. The construction of this coffer dam and its removal after the work is completed will eat up at least half of the appropriation, and the structure will be the largest of its kind on record in the Department, if not in the country. It is to be flag, which will take place at the yard.

built of three rows of sheet piling, fifteen feet apart, and the foundation will be of piling driven as deep as possible. The spaces between the rows of piling will be filled with hard elay, and on top of this will be a level stretch of earth three or four feet thick and about thirty feet wide. The dam will be 156 feet long, and the ends will be built into channels in the wall and packed so as to make a watertight wall from stone to stone. A sloping bank of earth is to be made on the outside of the dam, reaching from its base to above the high water-line. An idea of the strength required in this structure may be gathered from the fact that it will be expected to withstand the pressure of about thirtymay be gathered from the fact that it will be expected to withstand the pressure of about thirty-seven feet of water at high lide without a leak. Engineers place the limit of time required to complete the work at six months after the receipt of material, but it is not at all likely that this will be long enough, as the varid is notorious for delays, and there is a lot of red tape about everything of the sort, which requires a long time to untangle. The final plans have not yet been accepted, but it is said that the cutline given is not likely to be departed from in any material point.

As has been noted, the Indiana is to be cleaned by divers. This is due to the refuctance of the Department to take the chances involved in an attempt to get the big ship into the dock at Port Royal and get her out again. It is announced that there is no doubt about the ability of the dock to sustain her weight, the trouble being the depth of water over the sill, which is barely sufficient to accommodate a vessel of her draught even when the tide is at its highest. This defect shows that the action of the Department in dredging away the bar in the channel just before the entrance to the dock is reached, was of little use so far as the efficiency of the dock is concerned. As has been noted, the Indiana is to be cleaned

NEW SHIPS TO GO INTO COMMISSION. Officers who have just become comfortably settled in easy berths on shore are somewhat disturbed by the possibility of the Department cutting down the short duty term to two years instead of the present three years. This measure is under consideration in consequence of the large number of vessels which will go into comure is under consideration in consequence of the large number of vessels which will go into commission soon, no less than tweive being stated for active duty within the next four months. These ships will require about 110 officers, and in addition to these a number of officers will be relieved of sea duty and assigned to shore places. Six out of the tweive vessels will go into service in July. These are the gunboats Helena. Nashville, Annapolis, Wheeling, Vicksburg and Marietta. Four torpedo-boats are also on the slate, and the Cincinnati is to fly her flag. The latter ship is likely to be assigned to the South Atlantic station, in connection with the Wilmington. It has been decided that the Cincinnati, which is now on her way to New-York, will not be taken out of commission, as had previously been intended, but that on her arrival here such minor repairs as may be needed will be ordered to take the place of the Lancaster, now on the station with the Castine. The Nashville and Annapolis, of the gunboats, will likely remain on the North Atlantic station, the Helena, now at the yard, and the Wheeling will go to the Asiatic station, and the Marietta will take the place of the Pinta, now at Sitka.

Only three vessels are scheduled to go out of take the place of the Pinta, now at Sitka.
Only three vessels are scheduled to go ou commission within the next four months commission within the next four months—the Minneapolis, the Thetis and the Pinta, and this rather diminishes the intended size of the fleet to be held in reserve. There is talk of the Philadelphia, the flagship of the Pacific station, being taken out of service, but in that case the Department will not be helped in the matter of men or officers, as the Baltimore will holst her flag and the crew simply be transferred. The arrival of the gunboats in Asiatic waters will probably mean the condemnation and sale of the old ean the condemnation and sale of the old Monocacy.

Of course, all these changes and commissionings will depend on the success of the Department in securing enlistments, which at present, are slow. The Minneapolis, which will be home within a week or two, will furnish some men, but not enough to go around. A portion of her men will be attached to the Helena, and July 7 has been set for the ceremony of raising her and half take place at the yard. New-Jersen Advertisements. JERSEY'S

DEATH RATHER THAN IDLENESS.

HARTMAN COULD NOT GET WORK SO HE TOOK POISON

John Hartman, a porter, forty-seven years old, died early yesterday morning at his home, No. 208 Himrod-st., from paris green poisoning, taken of Friday night with suicidal intent. Before his death he became conscious and told his wife that he wanted to die because he was unable to support her and their fourteen year-old son. Hartman had been out of employment for three months, and since that time the only money that has been received toward the support of the little home was the earnings of the boy, $4 a week. On Friday Hartman received a promise of a place in New-York, but when promise of a place in New Tork, the wire in a prived at the office he found that the place ind been given to another man. He became disheartened over his fit-ack, and when he returned home was despondent. Hartman at once mixed the poison and drank it. When Mrs. Hartman returned she found her husband unconscisus upon a bed and summoned a doctor. Nothing could be done to save his life.

DEATH OF J. S. HOLMES.

J. S. Holmes, who for many years had been well known among New-York drygoods men, died suddenly from apoplexy on Friday evening at his home, No. 286 Clinton-ave. He had not been in good health for a long time, but his death was unexpected. The fureral will take place at the

THE CASE OF THE MURDERED POLICEMAN TO BE INVESTIGATED BY FLUSHING'S CORONER. Coroner I. M. Clapp, of Flushing, yesterday after-moon announced that he would hold an inquest on Tue-day evening next in the case of Policeman Henry Wendlesterf, of Whitestone, who died in the Clushing Hospital on Friday night from a factured skuil inflicted with a baseball bat in the Thaddeus, alias "Theatre," Norsleet. An autopsy was performed on the body of the murdered p man yesterday afternoon at the hegital by Dra. Edward Bleecker and Joseph Bloodgood. The result
